ABOUT OUR HONORED GUEST:

Shelter Legal Services honors Boston College Law School Dean Vincent D. Rougeau in recognition of the Law School's commitment to public service, including military and veterans issues. Shelter Legal Services was originally founded by Boston College Law School students to serve residents of the New England Center for Homeless Veterans whose legal needs were going unmet. For twenty years, Boston College Law School has supported Shelter Legal Services by donating office space on its campus and supporting the pro bono efforts of its students.

Vincent D. Rougeau became Dean of Boston College Law School on July 1, 2011. An expert in Catholic social thought, Dean Rougeau exemplifies the Jesuit tradition of educating students to be men and women for others. He previously served as a professor of law at Notre Dame, and as their Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. He received his A.B. magna cum laude from Brown University, and his J.D. from Harvard Law School where he was articles editor of the Harvard Human Rights Journal.

Please join us in recognizing Dean Rougeau and Boston College Law School's outstanding commitment to public service.
